

I am Gifted

My Talents

I am gifted at football and nearly all sports as I often play them and enjoy myself. Sharing this gift with my friends and family makes them happy as well as me.

I am equally gifted at playing on my Xbox 360 and all computer games too. I share this with my family and friends and most of the time, I beat them. I help my friends in school with their computer work.

I like supporting my country in the Olympics and football, rugby plus everything else my country and the rest of the United Kingdom takes part in. So does everyone else I am related to.

In all subjects at school I think that I do well at and I am confident in doing them. I share my knowledge with everybody to help them when they are stuck.

My Special Gifts

Fortunately I have my family and they are the most important thing to me, they love me and care for me and I am glad I belong to them.

My faith in God is very important to me and all my football and school friends. I thank God for putting me in such a good family and giving me the freedom to choose my own friends.
